Yallandigham.

This convicted traiter no sooner gets back to Ohio than he resumes his old trade of speechmaking. As the gift of gab got him into trouble in the first place, he probably thinks the hair of the same dog will cure, and he defies the government and counsels "peace" in the same breath. Haying get his tongue started he goes off in this fashion:

"I do not mean any longer to be the only man of the party who is to be the victim of arbitrary power. If Abraham Linthat section.—Rev. L. N. Wheeler, forcoln seeks my life let him so declare, but merly of Fond du Lac, where he learned he shall not again restrain me of my personal liberty, except upon due process of

What Abraham Lincoln "shall not do" is here very distinctly stated, and what is a "due process of law," we suppose, is for Mr. Vallandigham to say. We know Val. has got to lie' something of an institution' in Ohio, but if he keeps snubbing Johnny Brough and Old Abe as he has commenced, he will go down to the Dry Tortugas an he was originally sentenced.

A Muss at Chleago.

A Washington letter writer thus sugars off the prospects of a general muss at the copporhead convention in Chicago: 1. If they nominate a war man, the peace men will kick up a row. 2. If they nominate a peace man, the Coxites and McClellanites will kick up a tow.

3. If they make a peace platform, the people won't vote for it; because they know that unconditional peace is disunion on Jeff. Davis' terms.

4. If they make a war platform, people will say they prefer the party that has been for the war for three years, and has presecuted it successfully, so far.

5. No matter what they do, or whom they nominate, they will be beaten.

THE 40TH REGIMENT .- The 40th Regiment, 100 day men, left Madison about half-past 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning. The Journal says: "The boys went off in the very best of spirits, and all in good shape. We have never had a more orderly and well behaved set of men in camp hore. There was no regiment left behind to cheer them off, but quite a large number of ladies and citizens were present to bid them God speed."

THE New York News, a leading Democratic paper, thus completely justifies the slaveholder's rebellion: "No sensible person can deny that the cause of the Confederate States, in the present contest, is much stronger, and their rights less questionable than were these of the thirtean colunies in their contest with their mother country. "

DEPARTURE OF THE FORTI-FIRST REGI-MENT .- The Forty-First Regiment, one hundred day men, seven hundred strong, Colonel Geo. B. Goodwin, commanding, left Camp Washbarn Milwaukee at 8 o'clock on Wednesday morning, and embarked on a train for Chicago, took its departure at 10 o'clock. They follow the 39th and 40th, to Blemphia.

SEYERAL LIGHT batteries have recently been sent to Washington, as Gen. Grant has too large proportion of cavalry and light artillery. It is no easy matter to feed horses, and what the army of the Potomac needs is regiments of infantrymen who not only dare to pull a trigger, but to use the bayonet.

How Our Boys Amuse Themselves.

A correspondent of the New York Trib une narrates the following incident in the Firginia campaign:

Naturally the time hangs a little heavy when, as sometimes happens, nothing that may be shot at is seen for an hour or two. During one of these intervals this morning one man conceived a brilliant scheme, which, unfolded to his comrades, was instantly adopted. Every man loads his piece and points it over the parapet or through one of the many small portholes made by placing ar munition boxes in the wall. Then the author of the plan begins to shout orders as though commanding at east a brigade : "Colonel, connect your line with the 47th and give way to the right!" "Close ranks!" "Right dress!" "Fix bayonets!"

'Double quick!" "Charge!" Instantly five hundred men rise into plain sight behind the robel works, expeeting to see an advancing line. Not so. but five hundred from safe cover fire upon them on the instant. The volley which must have inflicted considerable loss, is followed up with cheers and jeers, laughter and much chaffing as: "what do you think o' Yankee tricks?" "that's the way John Brown's soul marches on." " No use of baiting hooks when you are fishing

THE EMEUTE IN ILLINOIS. Nothing has occurred of late that inter ests the people of the South so much as the intelligence of the recent fracas in Illinois. Frem the dispatch of the Provost Marshal General, and the request made to General Heintzleman to send forward five thousand men to aid in suppressing the outgoes soldiering in the 39th three months break, it would appear that matters had assumed a serious aspect in that locality, and we fervently trust that the "rebel sympathizers" may be found as numerous cranberry crop on the marshes north of as ants, and too strong to be put down by that place is not very promising; a severe | the five thousand men requested of General Heintzloman. We fervently trust that this outbreak of the populace may speed throughout Illinois until, like a contagion, it is scattered over the Western States. A popular revolu-tion of the copperheads of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio at the present time would be of immense service to us, and would, without a doubt, foil the grand plan by which Grant hopes to give the rebellion its death blow in the coming campaign. There is no doubt that there are in the three West-ern States mentioned above, a large numwas killed at Lyndon, Juneau county, on ber of men opposed to the abolition war. The vote in Ohio during the last Guberna-torial election exhibited the fact that over two hundred thousand voters in that State were opposed to the war, and if the flame of insurrection will only spread over Illi nois, we feel certain that thousands of Ohionns will join the melce. The fact of the insurrectionists having entrenched thomselves and the appre hended attack on Mattoon by the rebels of Shelby and Moultrie counties, would indicate that they were rising at different points in the State at the same time. If there is any proviously concerted plan between the different bodies of the rebels, and they can succeed in uniting their forces under some able leader, we are certain the outbreak will become too formidable for militia to quell. Even the militia can not be depended on, for it will necessarily therefore, necessitate the Federal Government to send veteran troops to the new ove of war and enable our forces to drive the Yankees from their present position. Since writing the above, the telegraph brings us contradictory accounts of this supposition was that the Illinoisans had dispersed. We trust that the first account and more reliable accounts of the ements

VERY, WELL PUT .- Mr. Yeaman of Kenucky confounded the opposition in the House during the debate upon the contested election in his district. The democratcomplained of the arbitrary acts of the 'pig-headed Burnside" in making an order forbidding disloyal persons in Kentucky to vote. Mr. Yeaman responded by reading the order of Gen. McClellan to Gen. Banks when the latter was in command in Baltimore, directing him to prevent the tories in that State from voting. Of the two orders McClellan's was more emphatic and arbitrary. There was nothing more to be said against arbitrary orders that day. McClellan will be found, when one collects and examines all his acts, to have exhibited very much of that spirit which is so odious to the liberty-loving democrats.

NEW TELEGRAPH LINE.-We understand that the State Telegraph Company have now in Milwaukee over 700 miles of wire which, they intend to put up in this State | all is reported quiet there. as soon as poles can be obtained. There is to be a second wire strung through to Prairie du Chien from Milwaukee and also one to La Crosse. In addition to this there is to be a line put up on the route of the Peninsular railroad.

Business Knowledge,-It is often said that knowledge is power. True, it is power, and nowhere do we find this power greater than in business life. The man who knows the most, or is most conversant with business principles, never fails to hold the "balance of power," He may, it is true, by an unfortuitous combination of circumstances, sometimes fail in his calculations, but his principles hold good, and the community always feel this reserve of power, and award him their confidence accordingly. It is a favorable sign of our times, therefore, to note the attention that is being paid to purely business courses of education. Our young men need this, and must have it, or fall into the second or third rank of business men. The Illinois School of Trade, Chicago, is a representative institution of this kind in the North west, being one of the largest and most successful. For course of studies pursued, see advertisement in our columns, Assessments. -Edilors Gazelle: I fear there will be great inequality in the assessment of personal property in Rock county, as I have been crediby informed that some of the assessors of the county are valuing personal property, at what they consider it worth in gold. Now if all the assessors were to work upon the same basis, it would do; but some I know do not take that view of the law. I have just completed the assessment of the personal property of the town of Magnolia, and I have valued each and every species of personal property, (as well as monies and credits) at what I consider its fair, ready selling price in ourrency, and I think I am bound by the law and my oath to do so. Now if I am mistaken, and others who took the opposite view are correct, it will evidently, work a great wrong in some portions of the county. I wish this matter to be agitated and understood, and the wrong righted, before or at the time of the meeting of the county board of equalizers. Let us hear from others.

J. DOOLITTLE.

A LITTLE PERSONAL.—If any lady in Janesville has missed her silver tea speens within a day or two, she may reasonably conclude that they were stolen by the same man who who ordered a certain amount of printing done at this office, and went off foreign salt before fishing bounties were without calling for the same, because the Sunday School Convention altered the time of certain meetings which he had specified in the bills. We regret we haven't his name. He looked like a clergyman and talked like a clergyman, but if he was one, it is the old story over again

Stealing the livery of heaven to serve the Devil in." although we have a better opinion of his Satanic majesty than to believe he would be mean enough to attend a Sunday School convention and sneak off without paying his bills. He probably is one of that contemptible class who are always present at gatherings where the provender is abundant and the bills footed by a generous public. If we had his name we should use it "to point a moral and adorn a tale," but as we have it not; this paragraph is less personal than it would other-

Yullandigham.

This convicted traitor no sooner gets back to Ohio than he resumes his old trade of speechmaking. As the gift of gub got him into trouble in the first place, he probably thinks the hair of the same dog will cure, and he defies the government and counsels "peace" in the same breath. Having get his tongue started he goes off in this fashion:

"I do not mean any longer to be the only man of the party who is to be the vic-tim of arbitrary power. If Abraham Lin-coln seeks my life let him so deolare, but he shall not again restrain me of my personal li erty, except upon due process of

What Abraham Lincoln "shall not do is here very distinctly stated, and what is a "due process of law," we suppose, is for Mr. Vallandigham to say. We know Val. has got to be something of an institution in Ohio, but if he keeps snubbing Johnny Brough and Old Abe as he has commenced; he will go down to the Dry Tortugas an he was originally sentenced.

A Muss at Chicago.

A Washington letter writer thus sugars off the prospects of a general muss at the copperhead convention in Chicago; 1. If they nominate a war man, the peace men will kick up a row.

2. If they nominate a peace man, the Coxites and McClellanites will kick up a row.

3: If they make a peace platform, the people wou't vote for it; because they know that unconditional peace is disunion on Jeff. Davis' terms.

4. If they make a war platform, people will say they prefer the party that has been for the war for three years, and has prosecuted it successfully, so far. 5. No matter what they do, or whom they nominate, they will be beaten.

THE 40TH REGIMENT.-The 40th Regiment, 100 day mon, left Madison about half-past 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning. The Journal says: "The boys went off in the very best of spirits, and all in good shape. : We have never had a more orderly and well behaved set of men in camp hore. There was no regiment left behind to cheer them off, but quite a large numher of ladies and citizens were present to bid them God speed." ... Mas., W. W. She had been deranged for several months, under the impression that she had committed the unpardonable sin. Her wound is said to be mortal. THE BOSTON Traveller, a journal whose first choice has not been understood to be

Mr. Lincoln, says; "The nominations of the Union Convention at Baltimore are undoubtedly the best which under the circumstances could be made, and if no unforseen event occurs in these revolutionary times, the ticket will probably be carried by a strong and perhaps an overwhelming vote.

THE New York News, a leading Democratic paper, thus completely justifies the slaveholder's rebellion: "No sensible person can deny that the cause of the Confederate States, in the present contest, is much stronger, and their rights less questionable than were those of the thirteen colonies in their contest, with their mother country."

Virginia campaign: Naturally the time hangs a little heavy when, as sometimes happens, nothing that may be shot at is seen for an hour or two. During one of these intervals this morning one man conceived a brilliant scheme, which, unfolded to his comrades, was in stantly, adopted. Every man loads his piece and points it over the parapet or through one of the many small portholes made by placing ammunition boxes in the wall. Then the author of the place begins to shout orders as though commanding at least a brigade:

"Colonel, connect your line with the 47th and give way to the right!" "Close ranks!" "Rightdress!" "Fix bayonets!" "Double quick!" "Charge!".
Instantly five hundred men rise into plain sight behind the rebel works, expecting to see an advancing line. Not so, but five hundred from safe cover fire upon them on the instant. The volley which must have inflicted considerable loss, is followed up with cheers and jeers, laughter and much chaffing as: "what do you think o' Yankee tricks?" "that's the way Lahn Brown's soul marches on." "No John Brown's soul marches on." use of bailing hooks when you are fishing

Copperhead Insurrection in the LOCAL MATTERS: North Prayed for by the Southern.

It appears from the following article which, with the paper containing it, is sent us by a soldier in the Army of the Cumberland, that the historaggerated accounts of the massacre of soldiers in Coles county, Ill., were received with great favor in the South.

THE EMEUTE IN ILLINOIS.

Nothing has occurred of late that interests the people of the South so much as the intelligence of the recent fracas in Illinois. com the dispatch of the Provost Marshal General, and the request made to General Heintzleman to send forward five thousand men to aid in suppressing the outbreak, it would appear that matters had assumed a serious aspect in that locality, and we fervently trust that the "rebel sympathizers" may be found as numerous an ants, and too strong to be put down by the five thousand men requested of General Heintzleman.

We fervently trust that this outbreak of the populace may speed throughout Illinois until, like a contagion, it is scattered over the Western States. A popular revolu-tion of the copperheads of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio at the present time would be of immense service to us, and would, without a doubt, foil the grand plan by which Grant hopes to give the rebellion its death blow in the coming campaign. There is no doubt that there are in the three Western States mentioned above, a large num-ber of men opposed to the abolition war. The vote in Ohio during the last Gubernatorial election exhibited the fact that over two hundred thousand voters in that State were opposed to the wer, and if the flames of insurrection will only spread over Illi nois, we feel certain that thousands of Ohions will join the molec.

The fact of the insurrectionists having entrenched themselves and the apprehended attack on Mattoon by the rebels of Shelby and Moultrie counties, would indicate that they were rising at different points in the State at the same time. If bliere is any previously concerted plan between the different bodies of the rebels, and they can succeed in uniting their for-ces under some able leader, we are certain the outbreak will become too formidable for militia to quell. Even the militia can not be depended on, for it will necessarily contain a large number of men who sym pathize with the insurrectionists. It will, therefore, necessitate the Federal Government to send vetoran troops to the new eve of war and enable our forces to drive the Yankees from their present position. Since writing the above, the telegraph brings us contradictory accounts of this outbreak. One dispatch from Mattoon to the Baltimore American states that scouts report the rebels at lifteen thousand strong. while another reports all quiet, and the supposition was that the Illinoisans, had dispersed. We trust that the first account is a correct one. Nothing could give u greater satisfaction than the sight of the opporheads cutting the throats of Lincoin's hirelings. We shall await future and more reliable accounts of the emeute with interest .- From the Atlanta Louisi ana Intelligencer, April 7.

VERY, WELL PUT .- Mr. Yeaman of Kentucky confounded the opposition in the House during the debate upon the contested election in his district. The democrate complained of the arbitrary acts of the "pig-headed Burnside" in making an order forbidding disloyal persons in Kentucky to vote. Mr. Yeaman responded by ing the order of Gen. McClellan to Gen. Banks when the latter was in command in Baltimore, directing him to prevent the tories in that State from voting. Of the two orders McClellan's was more emphatic and arbitrary. There was nothing more to be said against arbitrary orders that day. McClellan will be found, when one collects and examines all his acts, to have exhibited very much of that spirit which is so odious to the liberty-loving Foxes .- Mr. J. H. Fowler of Dunkirk, Dane Co. had a couple of tame foxes in town to-day, which attracted considerable attention on the upper bridge. With eight others they were dug out of a burrow in the ground, at one time.

NEW TELEGRAPH LINE .- We understand that the State Telegraph Company have now in Milwaukee over 700 miles of wire which they intend to put up in this State as soon as poles can be obtained. There is to be a second wire strung through to Prairie du Chien from Milwaukce and also one to La Crosse. In addition to this there is to be a line put up on the route of the Peninsular railroad.

Business Knowledge.-It is often said that knowledge is power. True, it is power, and nowhere do we find this power greater than in business life. The man who knows the most, or is most conversant with business principles, never fails to hold the " balance of power." He may, it s true, by an unfortuitous combination of sircumstances, sometimes full in his calculations, but his principles hold good, and the community always feel this reserve of power, and award him their confidence accordingly. It is a favorable sign of our times, therefore, to note the attention that is being paid to purely business courses of education. Our young men need this, and must have it, or fall into the second or third rank of business men. The Illinois School of Trade, Chicago, is a represontative institution of this kind in the North west, being one of the largest and most successful. For course of studies pursued, see advertisement in our columns.

Assessments - Editors Gazette: I fear there will be great-inequality in the assessment of personal property in Rock county, as I have been crediby informed, that some of the assessors of the county are valuing personal property, at what they consider it worth in gold. Now if all the assessors were to work upon the same basis, it would do; but some I know do not take that view of the law. I have just completed the assessment of the personal property of the town of Magnolia, and I have valued each and every species of personal property, (as well as monies and credits) at what I consider its fair, ready selling price in currency, and I think I am bound by the law and my oath to do so. Now if I em mistaken, and others who took the opposite view are correct, it will evidently, work a great wrong in some portions of the county. I wish this matter to be agitated and understood, and the wrong righted, before or at the time of the meeting of the county board of equalizers. Let us hear from others.

J. DOOLITTLE. A LITTLE PERSONAL .- In any lady in Janesville has missed her silver tea spoons within a day or two, she may reasonably conclude that they were stolen by the same man who who ordered a certain amount of providing for the pre-payment of duties on printing done at this office, and went off without calling for the same, because the Sunday School Convention altered the time of certain meetings which he had specified in the bills. We regret we haven't his name. He looked like a clergyman and talked like a clergyman, but if he was one, it is the old story over again

"Stealing the livery of heaven to serve the Devil in." although we have a better copinion of his Satanic majesty than to believe he would be mean enough to attend a Sunday School convention and sneak off without paying his bills. He probably is one of that contemptible class who are always present at gatherings where the provender, is abundant and the bills footed by a generous public. If we had this name we should use it "to point a moral and adorn a tale," but as we have it not, this paragraph is less personal than it would other Curcago, June 16 .- The Democratic State Convention at Springfield, nominated a full electoral ticket and appointed delegates to the National Convention. A resolution declaring that in as much as the National Democratic Convention is soon to assemble with authority to make a declaration of the principles of the National Democratic party, it is inexpedient for this convention on this occasion to make such a declaration.

A dispatch was received, here from the President of the District Convention at Hamilton Ohio, announcing the safe arrival there of Hon. C. L. Vallandigham. "We are going through with our task as far as I am concerned, if it takes three never be dislodged by the enemy until Richmond is taken. #### THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

New York, June 17 .- Times' special Washington, 16th.—One of Grant's couriers, who arrived here this morning from Bermuda Hundreds with dispatches for the Government, says that when he left Heavy firing has been going on in that yesterday morning (Wednesday, 15th,) fighting was going on in the vicinity of Petersburg, consisting of cannonading and musketry firing, which could be distinctly heard at the landing. At early dawn it was very heavy, and appeared to be momentarily increasing in severity. Grant's whole army was across the James. Its rear is several miles west of Bermuda Hundreds. The whole of Smith's corps had arrived. Several thousand fresh reinforcements had reached Bermuda and more were coming up. The 5th corps had advanced. He thinks Petersburg before this is in our hands, as the rebels had but comparatively a small force there to defend it.

Nothing had been heard from Sheridan. The Time's special Headquarters Bernuda Hundred, June 15th says: The 15th Army Corps under Cen. Smith was detached from the army of the Potomac on Monday and ordered to Butler's command New York, June 16 .- Post's Washing- last ovening, landing at Point of Rocks, Appotomax river. On reporting to Butler York this evening or to-morrow, where he an order was issued to Smith to move at 2 a. u. this morning upon Petersburg in eonjunction with a strong cavalry force under Kautz. While impeding these lines, rebel artillery and clattering of horses as they crossed the Pontcon bridge over the river were distinctly heard. Hancock crossed [near Fort] Powhattan about ten miles below City Point. Gen. Benham arrived last night with additional pontoon trains and crossing is now going on unmolested. Grant spent nearly all day with Butler, visiting his line of entrenchments and expressing himself well pleased with the condition of affairs here.

Butler to-day relieved Gilmore from duty as commander of the 10th corps -ground of action is alleged dilatoriness of Gilmore in moving his troops on Petersburg. Gilmore has requested a court of inquiry to investigate the matter.

Tribune's correspondence June 12 says The movements to James River was in 3 columns; Hancock's on the right, north of the Chickahominy. Burnaids on the left and Wright in the centre. Sheridan is off with divisions of Gregg to find Hunter and pilot him in this direction.

Herald's correspondence from Butley 15th, says Kantz left here last night with a large force of cavalry in the direction of Petersburg.

Herald's Ft. Monroe correspondence says the capture of Petersburg will place us in possession of the key to all railroads connecting Richmond with the south, and which will prevent supplies reaching Richmond, also conscripts in that direction. The only Railroad open is the Lynchburg & Danville, and that is attendad to by Hunter and Sheridan. The Worla's special says rumors are rife that the robels are evacuating Richmond.

The rebel Congress adjourned hastily without closing the business before them, and not only prisoners but non-combatants have been sent south. It is is said the evacuation was provided for three months since, when they commenced to remove public archives to Columbia S. C., Macon. Ga., and other places. There has been theavy exodus of women and children recently. Some think the place will be evacuated now and Grant will take it

The Capital was nover in such danger. With the railroad south in Grant's hands and Averill's forces in possession of the Danville railroad the Capital is completely isolated.

A gentleman of high official position having just arrived from Grant's headquarters, says the railroad running north from Richmond have been completely destroyed within the past week by our cavalry. Not a bridge, abutment or culvert remains intact. All have been burned and blown up, and the rails bent and twisted, and sunk in the swamps.

The rebel railroad communication with the northern portion of Virginia is at an end The rebels, by exerting all their energies, could not repair the damages in three months. The rebel cavalry have all disappeared from our front and flanks. Doubtless they have gone to intercept, if possible, Sheridan's force, which by this time is supposed to be operating in the very bowels of Virginia.

of the offerings-equal to the best display in other cities in the taste and skill of the arrangements-at the patient and persevering labor expended in producing this grand result. Why this outpouring of treasure? Why this universal sting of the national heart? We are in war-earnest, terrible war-against people of the same race, former brothron, broathing the same has given us her Howard, who, one-armed, schools of learning, owning the same an-cestry and their noble deeds. But the leaders of the South have torn them from us. They were weary of constitutional forms. They seized a portion of our heritage, and have sought to found a government whose corner-stone is human slavery To this dark Moloch they have erected their altars, and vainly they have made thoir sons to pass through a terrible fire. Never were so many , victims' sacrificed to that angry deity of old as the South has given to her idolized institution. But the suffering stops not there. The friends of the Union have risen in their might, and have rushed to the rescue. The farmer has left his plow, and the mechanic his shop, and the man of letters his desk; and the merchant his office; the noblest of our brave young men have been foremost in the thickest fight; and though amid the smoke and carnage of battle some of the stars have been dimmed, and some of the stripes have been torn, yet i the Star Spangel Banner still waves, and the millions rally around the flag. But alas! how many brave ones sleep; how many are wounded to-day in camp, and in hospital, and on the battle-field, multiplied thousands of our fathers, bro-

there and sons, are among the sick and the wounded. Shall their comrades cease the battle, strife to care for them, or shall other hands, less able and less skilfull in war, perform those offices of kindness? Shall they be left to suffer and to die neglected, or shalf overy attention which humanity can suggest be freely given? You, with others are answering this question by your donation and laber Ours is a wonderful land. The Government has called for men, and they have come from every plain and mountain, and valley, until more than a million have been in martial array. And yet vast crops are sown and gathered—the sound hammer is heard in the shop-and the lium of machinery in our factories our wharves are laden with goods-and and our cars crowded with passengersevery village and town is growing—the city streets are full—whole blocks are added to our buildings, and yet the crowded population cry for room.

Money has been called for, and Government loans by hundreds of millions have already been taken. We have been taxed, and the taxes have been unanimously paid. And, in addition, the people come. bringing their offerings by millions to aid and comfort the wounded and the dying. The Sanitary Commission has al. W. W-FIELD. H. L. Nor are these sums merely the offerings of the wealthy; many of these have done pobly, but the poorest via with the richest in devotion to this cause. Families of limited means, laboring men and working women, teachers and children in our schools artists and amateurs, all have given freely. The old grandmother, with failing eyes, has spent her winter ovenings busily knit he collections of the levely and the beau tiful. All have friends who have suffered or who may suffer, and images of loved ones cheer them on to labor. God has touched all hearts. He has written a lesson to be read by ages, that great wrongs must terminate in great catastrophics And the people have resolved that cost what it may, that system which would not live within the Constitution, shall die heyond it. angels hailed.

As we turn to descry the signs of the times, I think the light is dawning over the mountain tops. Our resources seem undiminished, while the rebellion is becoming exhausted. Its borders are contracting-its vitality waning. With us now fields of weatth are opening. Our vast Territories-from Arizona to Montana. from California to Colorado-are unveiling their mines of boundless wealth, and are waiting only for the miner's toil. When this strife is over, our national colors will be green and gold, for greenbacks and gold will everywhere be par. [Cheers.] Just now there may be wild speculation. to all the calls in his profession. Some may distrust and depreciate our national currency; but this I aver, that the ladies, always firm friends of Union, will | ever encourage notes of legal tender.

[Laughter.] Wo have resources also in brave men. Some of these now sleep, Lyon, and Ba-ker, and Sedgwick, and Wadsworth, and others rest in their glory. But others still live. Sherman, as he now shows by his career, is just now a Northean man with Southern proclivities. [Laughter and applause ] We have a Thomas who never doubts, and a Hancock who pushes his hosts among the clouds. New England air of freedom, taught together in the same is still a host, and a Butler who is the terror of the Confederacy. [Laughter,] Pennsylvania, feels that in her Hancock she has a tower of strength [cheers,] and near her heart sho bears her Meado of honor [cheors]; while the giant West, from the shores of her broad Mississippi, sends us a Grant of unconditional victory. [Laughter and applause.]

Nor are our seamen less brave. A gallant Foote has ended his labors. Peace to his memory! But Porter, Dupont and Farragut still marshal our fleets. Our monitors have revolutionized naval warfare, and have taught the world the value of hearts of oak in hearts of iron. But I must not delay. The Assembly waits to welcome the sound of cannon from Delaware, and to greet the rise of Pennsylvania's Curtin. [Laughter.] And now, in the name of the people, who have furnished these generous gifts, whose sympathics are with the brave men in the field; in the name of the people who ordained the Constitution under which we live, and who have sworn to defend and uphold it, in the name of the people who are determined to live or die under the stars and stripes, without a har across them-I dedicate these buildings and these treasures to the use of the sick and wormded among our soldiers and sailors, to those brave men who for us and ours have periled their lives and have driven back the hosts of the enemy. ORGAN. Among the different inventions originated and perfected by American Ingenuity during the past twenty verit. few are more surprising than the improvements in musical testraments, especially in reed instruments. known as "Reed Organs," Harmoniums and Melodoons. European taste has long seemed to have been satisfied with the Organs of Alexandre and Pieyel, although neither of those instruments afford much real variety of tone, notwithstanding the makers have multiplied stops and sets of reeds, and by consequence the cost, to an extraordinary degree. The American Or-Zin mode by S. D. and H. W. Smith, Beston, may eafely hallenge comparison with either of them, whether se regards variety, power and sweetness of tone or cost. All read instruments made by the best manufacturers in this country are constructed on the same principle, viz: of drawing the air through the reeds by an exhaustive bellows, instead of forcing it through them by powerful pressure; and the "Ameri. can Organ" differs from its competitors mainly in exercised in manufacture; Sd, In the skillful volcing giving remany different qualities of tone as there are ente of reeds; and Sd, in the use of a reverberating box, which adds materially to the power of the instrument without detriment to its delicacy and sweetness. Any person possessing a musical box can readily appreciate this improvement by setting it while in operation on a muttel or table, and then on a large empty box or barrel, and observing its vastly increased power and richness when in the latter position. In these three points—and they are certainly material ones—is supe rio ity claimed for the American Organs of Mesers. S. D CH W. Smith over the reed instruments of other makers. The Messrs. Smith, being the most expericuced Reed Organ makers in Boston, (having established hemselves in 1852), and having at least equal incilities with any other makers, have always kept themselves familiar with all improvements and inventions in their department, and they confidently assert their "American Organs" to be unequalled in volcing, and unsurpassed by any, at home or abroad, in purity, PRESID:ENT' LINCOLN'S sweetness and power of tone. "The trade in woolen goods is now unusually brisk, and rarely if over have we seen such a large and varied stock in market. It is noticeable also that the best qualities are of domestic manufacture, and quite a large assertment of Western goods are offered. Some of the bost plain cassimores in market at present are manufactured—not in England nor France—nor even in the Eastern States—but in Wisconsin and in several portions of Illinois, Indians and Ohio. The goods sent to our market from the "brone Mills," Janesville, (as exhibited by their agents, Bowen Bros, of this city,) deserve special mention because of their executence in every particular, and because we consider it our duty as a journalist to uld and foster home menufactures." President Lincoln. MR. PRESIDENT: At the request of the President of the United States, and on his behalf, I accept from the hands of the Executive Committee the vast treasures contrined in this building, the generous offerings of the people of New Jorsey. Pennsylvania and Delaware, dedicated in their name to the sick and wounded of our army and navy. No one, sir, more than myself, regards and honors our Chief Magistrate. The noble end in view, the unparalleled magnificence of these arrangements, are worthy of his presence. He would have been delighted to be here, for his heart beats in sympathy with our great purpose, and inspires in our souls confidence in the result of our national struggle. He cannot result of our national struggle. He cannot are waiting only for the miner's toil, be with us, for his eyes are bent upon When this strife is over, our national col-Richmond. [Applause.] He is listening for tidings from his brave Generals, and the equally brave men of his advancing and gold will everywhere be par. [Cheers.] hosts. While he is not with us, he is of Sometree distance wild speculation. us. He sympathizes with the wounded soldier and sailor, and with all the means that are taken for increasing the resources of the Sanitary Commission. [Applause. When I look around this building, I am astonished at the multitde and magnitude of the offerings-equal to the best display in other cities in the taste and skill of the arrangements—at the patient and persevaring labor expended in producing this grand result. Why this outpouring of treasure? Why this universal sting of the national heart? We are in war-carnest, terrible war-against people of the same air of freedom, caught together in the same schools of learning, owning the same an-cestry and their noble deeds. But the leaders of the South have torn them from us. They were weary of constitutional forms. They seized a portion of our heritage, and have sought to found a govern-ment whose corner-stone is human slavery. To this dark Moloch they have erected their alters, and vainly they have made their sons to pass through a terrible fire. Never wore so many victims, sacrificed to that angry deity of old as the South has given to her idolized institution.

But the suffering stops not there. . The friends of the Union have risen in their might, and have rushed to the rescue The farmer has left his plow, and the mechanic his shop, and the man of letters his desk; and the merchant his office; the noblest of our brave young men have been foremost in the thickest light; and though amid the smoke and carnage of battle, some of the stars have been dimmed, and some of the stripes have been torn, yet the Star Spangel Banner still waves, and the millions rally around the flag.

But alas! how many brave ones sleep

how many are wounded to-day in camp, and in hospital, and on the battle-field, multiplied thousands of our fathers, brothers and sons, are; among the sick and the wounded. Shall their comrades cease the battle, strife to care for them, or shall other hands, less able and less skilfull in war, perform those offices of kindness? Shall they be left to suffer and to die negleeted, or shall overy attention which hu-manity can suggest be freely given? You, with others are answering this question by your donation and labor.
Ours is a wonderful land. The Government has called for men, and they have come from every plain and mountain, and valley, until more than a million have been in murtial array. And yet vast crops are sown and gathered—the sound of the hammer is heard in the shop-and the hum of machinery in our factories—our wharves are laden with goods—and and our cars crowded with passengersevery village and town is growing—the city streets are full—whole blocks are added to our buildings, and yet the crowded population cry for room.

Money has been called for, and Government loans by hundreds of millions have already been taken. We have been taxed, and the taxes have been unanimously paid. And, in addition, the people come, bringing their offerings by millions to aid and comfort the wounded and the dying. The Sanitary Commission has already collected in money and in value more than ten millions of dollars, and the Christian Commission is also receiving large amounts for its noble work. Ap-

Nor are these sums merely the offerings of the wealthy; many of these have done nobly, but the poorest vie with the richest in devotion to this cause. Families of limited means, laboring men and working women, tonchers and children in our schools artists and amateurs, all have given freely. The old grandmother, with failing eyes, has spent her winter evenings busily knitting for the poor soldier-boy, and the little practiler has gathered a flower to add to the collections of the levely and the beautiful. All have friends who have suffered, or who may suffer, and images of loved ones cheer them on to labor. God has touched all hearts. He has written a lesson to be read by ages, that great wrongs must terminate in great catastrophics. And the people have resolved; that cost what it may, that system which would not live within the Constitution, shall die heyond it. [Loud applause.] I remember to have seen them traveling on the Pacific coast, rivers taken from their beds half-way up the mountain sides and their waters distributed all over the hillsides and plains, wherever golden sands were found, the miners, by the aid of the little rills, were gathering with care the precious particles. That same river, ere thus it was parted, had been made up of hundreds of springs from near the mountain tops. So it is with your great agencies. In the great centre you have gathered all the little rills, from country and from village, until they swell into a deep, broad river. Chicago and Baltimore, New York and Brooklin, St. Louis and Pittsburg-all gather their tributaries and concentrate their vast treasures. Philadelphia comes last but not least. Here are the gathering rills from Deleware and New Jersy, and from the mountain heights of Pennsylvania. pouring their volume. in this vast reservoir. Here by fairy hands they shall be transformed, commingled, and distributed until some little rill shall flow beside every sick and wounded one, and returning life and health, and love shall far outweigh all the golden sands of Colifornia's coast. Other cities have done mobly, but no arrangements equal to these, for a single in power at the time and nobedy but those ourpose, have ever graced any city on the face of the earth in any age, of the world.

worthy sister of the beloved Mary, whom they now so much desire and covet.

As we turn to descry the signs of the times, I think the light is dawning over the mountain tops. Our resources seem undiminished, while the rebellion is becoming exhausted. Its borders are contracting—its vitality waning. With us new fields of weathh are opening. Our vast Territories—from Arizona to Montana, from California to Colorado are unveiling their mines of boundless wealth, and ors will be green and gold, for greenbacks tional currency; but this I aver, that the ladies, always firm friends of Union, will ever encourage notes of legal tender

[Laughter.]
We have resources also in brave men.
Some of these now sleep, Lyon, and Baker, and Sedgwick, and Wadsworth, and others rest in their glory. But others still live. Sherman, as he now shows by his career, is just now a Northern man with Southern proclivities. [Laughter and ap-plause.] We have a Thomas who never plause.] We have a Thomas who never doubts, and a Hancock who pushes his hosts among the clouds. Now England has given us her Howard, who, one-armed, is still a host, and a Butler who is the terror of the Confederacy. [Laughter,] Pennsylvania, feels that in hor Hancock she has a tower of strength [cheers,] and near her beart she bears her Meade of honor [cheers]; while the giant West, from the shores of her broad Mississippi, sends us a Grant of unconditional victory.

[Laughter and applause.]

Nor are our seamen less brave. A gallant Foote has ended his labors. Peace to his memory! But Porter, Dupont and Farragut still marshal our fleets. Our monitors have revolutionized naval warfare, and have taught the world the value of hearts of oak in hearts of iron,

But I must not delay. The Assembly waits to welcome the sound of cannon from Delaware, and to greet the rise of Penusylvania's Curtin. [Laughter.]

And now, in the name of the people who have furnished these generous gifts, whose sympathies are with the brave men in the field; in the name of the people who ordained the Constitution under which we live, and who have sworn to defend and uphold it; in the name of the people who are determined to live or die under the stars and stripes, without a bar across them-I dedicate these buildings and these treasures to the use of the sick and wornded among our soldiers and sailors, to those brave men who for us and ours have periled their lives and have driven back

An English writer says that Mr. Macaulay won his way to distinction by making assertions. The Milwaukee News is likely to do the same thing, with the difference that its distinction will be such as is accorded to those that make false assertions. Horace Mann once said of Mathew Hale Smith that he, (Smith) couldn't see any difference between Christ and the dovil, and when the News asserts that Mr. Lincoln "has proved false to his country," false to himself and false to his God, "it is evidently thinking and writing of James Buchanan of Pennsylvania, quite another man from the honest old rail splitter of Illinois. Our cotemporary has a syllogistic method of putting things, and we infer that it is haunted with the remembrance of the corruptions of the last Dem: ocratic administration, from several of its specific, ges among which is this: "The permission of corruption in the departments at Washington and the ap-pointment of men known to be unprinci-

That is a point black shot at "Old Buck," and the Nows had in its mind seye the wholesale thieving, swindling and on a mantel or table, and then on a large empty box or corruption carried on by those experts in every degree and kind of public crime and official malfeasance known or practiced by public scoundrels, Floyd, Thompson, Toucey and the balance of that hell-born crew which surrounded the old Pennsylvania traitor during the last part of his reign. Another charge of the News is "the covert inauguration of the war," which must mean the democratic party as it was claiming to be democrats took an active [Applause.] I may very with this wish man, "Many daughters have done well, in armed and open hostility to the regular-but this one has excelled them all."

S. D. & H. W. SMITH'S AMERICAN

Among the different inventions originated and per fected by American Ingentity during the past twenty years, few are more autrorising than the improvement in musical instruments, especially in reed instruments known as "Road Organs," Harmoniums and Melode ons. European taste has long seemed to have been atisfied with the Organs of Alexandre and Pleyol, although neither of those instruments afford much real variety of tone, notwithstanding the makers have multiplied stops and sets of reads, and by consequence the cost, to an extraordinary degree. The American Organ made by S. D. and H. W. Smith, Beaten, may safely challenge comparison with either of them whether as regards variety, power and sweetness of tone or cost. All read instruments made by the bes manufacturers in this country are constructed on the same principle, viz: of drawing the air through the reeds by an exhaustive bellows, instead of forcing it through them by powerful pressure; and the "American Organ" differs from its competitors mainly is liree points; 1st, The great care and thoroughness exercised in manufacture; 2d, In the skillful voicing giving as many different qualities of tone as there are sole of reeds; and 3d, in the use of a reverberating box, which adds materially to the power of the instru-ment without detriment to its delicacy and sweetness. Any person possessing a musical box can readily appreciate this Improvement by setting it while in operation burrel, and observing its vastly increased power and richness when in the latter position. In these three points-and they are certainly material ones-is supe riority claimed for the American Organs of Messrs. S b, & H. W. Smith over the reed instruments of other makers. The Messrs. Smith, being the most experlenced Reed Organ makers in Boston, (having established themselves in 1852), and having at least equal facilities with any other makers, have always kept themselves familiar with all improvements and inventions in their department, and they confidently assert their "American Organs" to be unequalled in volcing and unsurpassed by any, at home or abroad, in purity, sweetness and power of tone. The contrivances fo producing varied expression, such as the "treble forte" tremele and the swell, and the case with which change of stops may be made, render the American Organ, in skillful hands, expable of as much delicacy of expression and variety of effect as the expensive Harmoniums of Alexandre with their thirteen registers, and while undoubtedly far superior in durability, is sold for less than half the cost. The demand in England for Smilit's American Organ is steadily increasing, and is an irrefragable proof that it triumphantly stand

It is noticeable also that the best qualities are of domestic manufacture, and quite a large uswortment of Western goods are offered. Some of the best plain cassimores in market at present are manufactured—not in England nor France—nor, even in the Eastern States—but in Wisconsin and in several portions of Illinois, Indians and Ohio. [Translated from the French.]

After having played on the Piano of Messas. Knabet Co., it is impossible not to bear testimenty to their qualities, which have acquired for them the eminent reputation which they enjoy. The Piano of their manufacture, on which I have played, are exceedingly remarkable for their qualities. The bass is powerful without hardbiness, and the upper notes sweet, aleast and harmoniously mellow, (chrystallno), and I do got hesitate to express in regard to these instruments my ontire satisfaction, and to declare that they are equal if not superfor to the best manufactured in Europe or this country by the most celebrated makers.
